Head/Hair Spa

What is a Head Spa?

A head spa, guided by a holistic approach, combines spa-like rituals with a deep cleanse of the scalp. This process removes buildup and stimulates blood circulation to enhance overall scalp health. While relatively new to the West, head spas have been traditionally practiced in Japan for years, where scalp care is seen as essential for maintaining healthy hair.

Much like facials improve skin health, a Japanese head spa resets the scalp with a detoxifying massage that provides stress relief, improves hair and scalp conditions, and ultimately promotes healthy hair growth.

What to Expect

- Laying Down To Bed: You'll move to a bed inside the spa guided by our therapists.
- Essential Oils: The session begins with inhaling a blend of essential oils to bridge the mind-body connection.
- Rinse and Massage: From the first rinse, every step involves slow, intentional movements. Your expert will massage your scalp, targeting specific pressure points for added relaxation.
- - Steam Cap: The process continues with a steam cap to open hair follicles for a deeper clean.
- Conditioning Treatment: After more gentle scalp massage, a conditioning treatment is applied to the hair. It is left on for a few minutes and covered with a hot towel to maximize absorption.
- Other Package Inclusions: Other packages may include different hair nutrients and massage techniques.
- -Final Rinse and Nourishment: Once all products are rinsed out, the process concludes with a nourishing scalp tonic or serum, which can be left on until your next wash.
